

Reflection from Platinum Jubilee:

Within this past century, the world has changed,
we have designed, invented, and rearranged.

All after our Elizabeth's coronation,
we have grown and developed as a nation.

She was born for this life, but has lived it well,
she has raised a country, there's no parallel.

Within her reign she fought pandemics and wars,
watched the millennium and the world be explored.

We look at our kingdom with respect and with pride,
and see England's impact everywhere, worldwide.

We are grateful for all that has come in-between the seventy long years of service from our queen.
